Wise Men Still Seek Jesus!

SINGING HIS PRAISES. As the angelic chorus announced the birth of Christ years ago, even today thoughtful individuals and groups sing the story of God's love during the Christmas season. Clear, young voices thrill the hearts of the shut-ins, the elderly and the depressed as "Joy to the World, the Lord is come" pierces the cold, still air.

This junior choir of the Sugar Grove Mission church represents

UNUSUAL FRUIT ON AN EVERGREEN TREE. Warm "soxs" for the unfortunate become the concern of the girl scouts. Unselfishly providing their time and sharing their Christmas funds, the girls are exemplifying the spirit of the Master. Scout Linda Schumann and Brownie Karen Pollock of Pleasant twp. troops 78 and 51, respectively, show the adults how they can feel better this Christmas.

The heavens opened and an angel announced to a group of bewildered and frightened shepherds that an unusual child had been born in a neighboring hamlet. The proclamation so impressed the humble listeners that even before the echoes of the hallelujahs had died in the Judean hills, they apparently forsook their duties and went to Bethlehem to witness the event the Lord had brought to pass.

A star appeared in an eastern sky and was noted with great joy by three men of Israelitic descent and heritage who had been eagerly awaiting the phenomenon. The message its silent beams revealed to their minds compelled them leave home and kin, travel hunreds of arduous miles, in order to present gifts to the one born "King of the Jews".

God's unspeakable gift, His Son, had been bestowed upon a generation of forewarned but unprepared people. A mystic announcement to a startled maiden, an illuminating dream experienced by a young carpenter, and a governmental edict combined to fulfill the inspired prophecies of the hazy past.

Nearly two thousand years have passed since the Almighty presented the world with His most precious possession. At the crude manger in a dingy cave, men knelt and offered their lives and fortunes to a babe who was destined to flee the wrath of envious men, to grow into a fearless but rejected preacher, and to become the cornerstone in a new concept of God's unparalleled love.

For those of us who still desire to bring gifts to Bethlehem's babe, we hear the words of the grown Master when he commanded, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me". Through the mist of our secular celebration, evidences of the true Christmas spirit seem to shine like the star which led the wise men of old. To those who have quietly demonstrated what their hearts envision, this feature is dedicated.

PROCLAIMING FROM THE HOUSE TOP. The Bethel Evangelical United Brethren church has erected a beautiful colored picture which explains adequately the reason for their rejoicing. Floodlighted by night, the canvas silently testifies to those who pass by why there is a Christmas.

It took time to erect this display which was not repaid except through the satisfaction of serving the Christ it pictures and the comfort or challenge it may bring to a viewer.

THE SACRED MINUTE. Amid the tinsel, ribbon, and gaily decorated wrappings of Christmas morning, the few minutes of reading the "Story of the First Christmas" from The Holy Bible will impress the little ones, and remind the elders, that the celebration is really because Jesus was born on this day centuries ago. That Santa Claus has been superimposed upon the public's consciousness is apparent in childish conversations.

The Bowers of Pittsfield annually read about the birth of Jesus from the second chapter of St. Luke's account and follow the reading with prayer. Every year, they reaffirm their active faith. Although unknown to the girls, (oldest to youngest) Linda, Joanne, Barbara, and Nancy, the training they are receiving is not accepted policy in every home on December 25. John and Ethel center the Christmas observances around the "unseen guest in their home".

COUNTY NEWS in brief...

Marijuana Cases were completed Tuesday with the sentencing of James Albaugh, Clarendon, who recently changed his plea to guilty of possessing the narcotic. Judge Alexander C. Flick, Jr. imposed a suspended sentence of one year in the Allegheny County Workhouse and two years probation to Sheriff L. E. Linder.

According to police announcements, this decision completes the case which developed from investigations conducted the evening of the Warren-Jamestown football game.

S. MONTGOMERY McCLURE

Warren Lost A Leading citizen this week when Monty McClure died in the Warren General hospital. Monty was known by everyone and was very popular. He had been the push behind many projects, such as the Red Cross drives before and during the war. He was active in the Players, and currently was a sparkplug in the Warren County Personnel Association.

Typical of Monty was the last local election, in which he made an independent run for burgess and obtained a very large vote, despite an unfriendly press. Lost is another rebel from the thinning ranks of the unregimented who so often have spoken out for the minority.

WARREN AREA SCHOOL DIRECTORS. The annual re-organization meeting of the Warren Area school directors was held Wednesday, December 15 at Beatty Cafeteria. A Skidding Car which did not stop was the cause of a minor accident at noon on Monday, December 20, north of Warren on route 62. Damages totaling $130 resulted when Mayard Quackenbush, RD 3, Warren, struck a vehicle operated by Francis Font, 102 W. Fifth ave. when the latter stopped suddenly to avoid colliding with the car being driven by the unknown lady.

Slippery Roads were responsible for most of the accidents during the past week. At 1:20 p. m., Monday, December 20, Ronald Arner's car went into a skid while he was overtaking and passing a vehicle being driven by Merle Dodge and the two collided. The accident which occurred one-half mile west of Warren on route 666 caused $40 in damages.

AREA SCHOOL DIRECTORSHONOR RETIRED MEMBER.

Commending words were spoken to L. D. Anderson, who recently retired from the Elk twp. board of school directors, by President Keller for his thirty-six years of service to the community. The occasion for the recognition was the meeting of the area directors in Beatty cafeteria, Wednesday, December 15.

Re-elected as officers of the Warren Area School Board and also for the Joint Committee were (left to right) W. H. Cowden, Warren, treasurer; Melvin Keller, Warren, president; L. M. Schaeffer, Pleasant twp., vice president; and K. R. Barrett, Conewango twp., secretary. The officers are pictured as they congratulated Mr. Anderson.

Greetings

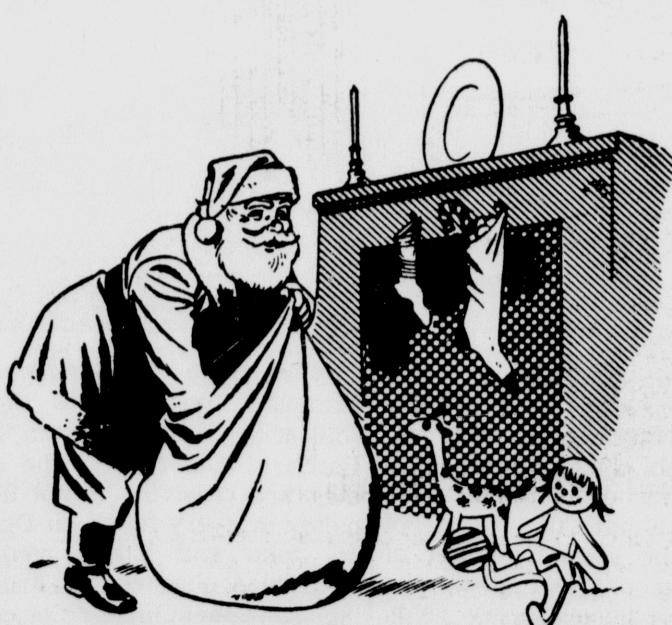

The Christmas Season with its spirit of Good Will and friendliness brings a deeper appreciation of the pleasant associations we have enjoyed together in community activities.

We are indeed grateful for your loyal cooperation and the contribution that you have made to the success of the various Jaycee projects. It is this fine spirit of helpfulness that makes our community great.

The coming year will offer many opportunities for further service. We sincerely hope that it will also bring with it a keener appreciation of the opportunity we all have to better our community through civic activities.

With warm regards and Best Wishes that you may have a Joyous Christmas and a New Year filled with all things good.

Appraisal Buck Season

The field officers of the Game Commission have made their final reports on the 1954 buck season. The following is based on kill estimates and other information submitted:

Reports from the Game Commission's six field divisions show the estimate of legally killed deer last season to be 32,728, as compared to the 1953 season when game protectors said about 31,963 legal deer were killed. The actual tabulation of kill tags of legal antlered deer taken in the '53 season totaled 37,384, which again indicates the conservative estimate submitted by field officers of the Commission.

If the officers' figures for the last season were correspondingly low the bag of bucks in 1954 exceeded that of '53. In 1952 the legal buck kill, by returned tags, was 27,164.

Over most of the state the weather during the recent deer season was described as "good" to "fair", with the hunting pressure greater than in the previous season. In the northwest, however, the weather was called "bad". Rain, wind, low temperatures and snow cut hunters' time afield and reduced the take of bucks in that section. Across most of the northern counties a reasonable layer of snow provided hunters with an assist. Except in the southwest and the mountainous portions of the southcentral bare ground prevailed, hurting the hunters' chances and increasing the possibility of hunter casualties.

In the rugged portions of the state, in the '54 season, many hunters were forced to go deep into the woods or high onto the mountains where the bucks stayed because the supply of acorns was there. But increased hunting pressure in agricultural areas was also noted in the recent season. While bucks were found to be fat generally, the best racks came from farm areas or lands adjacent. More hunters than formerly were reported seeking their deer in southern counties, where deer bagged were usually fine specimens. An exceptionally large buck was killed in Chester County in the last season. The animal, an 8-pointer, weighed 250 pounds rough dressed.

Final figures on the legal buck kill of 1954 will not be available until kill tags submitted to the Harrisburg office of the Game Commission are tabulated.

Fur Harvest Continues

By now most hunters have cleaned, oiled and stored their sporting guns.

The situation is different in the case of fur takers. The present mink season does not end until noon, January 1, 1955. The one for muskrats closes at noon, February 1. Tens of thousands of men, boys and some of the feminine sex trap for fur-bearers in Pennsylvania every fall and winter.

In the current hunting license period raccoons, skunks and opossums may be taken in unlimited numbers. This winter's three-week beaver season does not start until February 14, 1955. Foxes and weasels, classed as predators, may be trapped any time.

Today's prices for wild-caught fur are so low, compared to those

A CHRISTMAS DINNER. Employees of the Warren Electric Cooperative and their guests held their annual Christmas party in the Y.W.C.A., Thursday, December 16.

HOME MADE DECORATIONS.

The Christmas meeting of Youngsville's Cub Pack 30, held Friday evening, December 17 in St. Francis parish house, was the climax to several weeks efforts by the boys. Homemade tree decorations, cut from pieces of colored paper and formed into unusual designs, were placed on the evergreen which was already erected and held a few strings of lights. Presents were proudly bestowed by the Cubs upon their parents and a gift exchange was enjoyed by the members themselves.

The picture illustrates the beauty of the completely decorated tree. It is easy to denote by the height of the topmost paper decoration the limit the boys could reach and the rush with which they finished the job.

NEW ADDITION. After the completion of the Christmas lighting in the borough of Youngsville, a new red-yellow-green addition was added. The Schaeffer Electric Co. installed the automatic traffic signal at the intersection of East Main and Railroad sts. on Thursday afternoon, December 16.

The light, authorized by state officials particularly for the protection of school children, will be operated on a three-color basis Monday through Saturday between 8 and 9:30 a. m.; 11:30 a. m. and 1 p. m.; 3 and 5:30 p. m. The rest of the time it will blink a caution warning.

Residents of the community have been overjoyed with the benefits derived from the installation. It is easier and safer to cross the busy highway, vehicles entering the thoroughfare from Railroad st. are not held up for long periods of time, and autos backing out of parking spaces between the signal and the bridge find periods of stopped traffic which allows them ample opportunities of finding their places in the maze of cars.

British Commercials

For the last couple of months British publications have been flooded with advertising about advertising. Britain is about to be embraced by commercial television and the ad agencies are busily telling the people - in a discreet British way, of course - how adept they are at making television commercials, a feat that has never been performed in Britain before.

To quote one of these advertising ads at random: "British commercial television would be something quite new; something on its own. It would be unlike BBC television because it would be commercial. It would be unlike American television because it would be British - and especially because there would be no sponsored entertainment as in America." (British ad agencies will have no voice in programming; they will just insert the commercials as we do here in magazines and newspapers.)

* * *

Well, we got a little foretaste of just how British British commercials are going to be the other day on Eric Sevareid's program "The American Week" (CBS-TV 4 p. m. EST Sundays). From Sir Kenneth Clark, the Tzar of British commercial television, Mr. Sevareid procured some British TV commercials (which have not even been seen in Britain) and also a filmed interview with Sir Kenneth filmed interview with Sir Kenneth. The British had inspected about 1,000 of our TV commercials and Mr. Sevareid inquired of Sir Kenneth what he thought of them. "They're a pretty mixed lot," said Sir Kenneth carefully. "There are some amusing ones, especially the cartoons. But there are some that are a bit too insistent - too insistent for us, at any rate. I wonder how well all that banging on the nerves would work over here."

Then we got some samples of the British or uninsistent kind of commercial. They were, I'm forced to confess, fearfully British and frightfully uninsistent. One of them opened with a hearty Briton saying: "Hello there. I want to talk about penguins." And talk about penguins he did - about small penguins that live off the coast of Africa, about king penguins who warm their eggs between their feet and about imperial penguins. "And also the other kind of penguin," he added diffidently, "Milk chocolate penguins" - and he held up a bar - "biggest milk chocolate bar in Britain." and that was that.

* * *

Another one opened with a burly character, fingering a book. "I'm a Scot," he announced. "I always thought it was - (I didn't catch the name of the author) - who first

The K of C Hall was filled to capacity for the Christmas party which the Knights sponsored for their children and relatives on Sunday afternoon. A musical and dancing program which included

"Skeeter" Sudul, dancers from Beach Dance Studio, and several comedy acts kept the youngsters and their parents in a gay mood. Santa Claus (Benny Malec) arrived on schedule and received personal requests from the wide-eyed small fry. One of the first in line evoked a general announcement from the bewhiskered gentlemen by topping his list with an appeal for a baby sister.

ACTIVE SANTA. The fourth graders at McClintock school constructed a replica of Santa for the program held in their auditorium early this week. The red-suited, white-whiskered man has a rope attached which can pull him up through the chimney. In response to a question as to what Santa did before disappearing up through the fireplace, the children answered in chorus, "placing his finger beside his nose, with a nod of his head up the chimney he rose".

BUYERS' CORNER

What To Buy???

Comes the day before Christmas and all through the town there are too many mouths with their corners turned down. Mainly because they haven't been able to find what they want or perhaps haven't been able to think of what they want to buy for somebody, or a lot of bodies.

We don't know how much help we can be in this emergency, but if you will remember that we do not have any knowledge concerning the size of your pocketbook and make allowances accordingly, we will help.

Most men drive cars and cars are mighty convenient when they perform well, as they do most of the time. But there are times when they give real trouble, and it is then that your motoring man needs a friend. There are many helpful friends you can provide.

If you want to spend about one dollar, there is the extension auto light, which plugs into the lighter socket. This lets you look into an engine, the trunk, under the seat, or any awkward place, and you don't have to worry about batteries going dead because your main source of power always is there. Of course that is another kind of trouble no juice. If you would like to spend a lot more than a dollar you can relieve him of any concern about battery trouble for the life of the car. They now have batteries which are guaranteed to last and last. We have had articles about them. They cost money, but are worth it if you can afford the price. At Christmas we sometimes afford a little more than usual. It is the luxury part of the price which often makes a routine item a gift.

You also can get that motoring friend a membership in the AAA. This also is a handy thing to have around when you need help on a cold night or in a strange spot.

Perhaps a shirt sounds a bit too practical. But there is one shirt a man always welcomes. He likes a sport shirt which he can wear with most anything and there are some very rich numbers now on the market that are stylish, longwearing, and make a fine gift.

If he plays golf he never has too many balls. A dozen balls for about $13 from the club pro will prove very useful next April. If he hunts or fishes, see his favorite sporting goods dealer. He will know what lures or ammunition your man prefers. A paid for gift order will be a big help later in the year.

Broiler rotisseries are increasing in popularity, and will serve as a present for either member of the household, or for both. The cost ranges from $50 up to $80 for a good one.

In this age of arthritis, and mysterious aches and pains, much emphasis is placed on controlled heat during the sleeping hours. You can buy an excellent electric blanket for as little as $33.

A little item for about $3 is the Parker Jotter Fine Point, a good ball point pen. And there are other makes. If it wears out, buy another next year.

And neither side of the house will dislike you if you send home a good dishwasher. A gadget that lengthens the evenings and the days, giving you more time for the TV set which you may have bought last year.

If you need a new radio set, but can't afford a fancy console model, a good buy is a table set. They make some excellent ones these days, and with the rapid changes made in TV and radio, a table set is a wise investment. You will not hesitate so much in two or three years about buying a new model to replace it.

Don't forget the music side of many people. A late record always is welcome if they have a player.

And don't hesitate to buy a gift that fits into the secret wish. Perhaps all that is needed is a gift to start someone painting, taking pictures, playing the piano or the violin, or indulging in some pleasure which they often talk about but never take the plunge. Give them a push with the right gift. Hobbies of all kinds can start at any age in these days of growing enlightenment on that subject, and especially in these days of growing time on our hands.

Remember those extra leisure hours, hours for gardening, fishing, music, art, bird watching, badminton, games of many kinds, work shops, dog training, movie making, archery, and on down the list of dreams.

Looking over that list there will be those who will ask, "What do I buy for such a hobby as bird watching?" There are several very handy items you can buy. One is a good bird book, in colors. Another is a pair of binoculars. And you can buy a good pair for less than $50.

If your man is a photography bug working under the handicap of an improvised dark room, perhaps you note that he works much in the dark, with his luminous wrist watch as his time piece. Or maybe he has had you keep time. Any photography supply store can sell you a neat little automatic timer that will make him happy. You can get one for less than $10.

If you have run out of ideas for milady, or perhaps have spent a few dollars but want one more bit of a gift, why not a half dozen sheer hose? No lady ever has enough.

These are gifts you do not have to order. They can be found in that last minute rush. Also to be found is a subscription to the Observer, bringing it to you by mail every week. The first subscription costs you $2 if you order it today or Friday. All additional gift subscriptions are $1.50 a year. The regular price is $2.50 for the Warren and Youngsville editions. So you also are receiving a gift from us.

A Very Merry Christmas!

NOTICE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN That on December 21st, 1954, Articles of Incorporation were filed in the Department of State of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, for a proposed corporation to be named Beyer Construction Company, to be organized under the Business Corporation Law approved May 5, 1933, P. L. 364, its supplements and amendments, and the purposes of said corporation are to engage in a general contracting, building supply and construction business, and to acquire real estate and erect thereon, or elsewhere, dwelling, commercial, or other structures of all kinds, and to develop, alter, subdivide, deal in, operate, rent, lease, mortgage, and sell the same, as principal and not as broker, and to buy, sell and deal generally, both at wholesale and retail, in building materials and supplies of every kind and nature, and for these purposes to have and enjoy the rights and privileges of said Act of Assembly.

Merry Christmas

The sentiment that is in evidence during the Christmas season carries no greater pleasure than the opportunity it offers to send good wishes to those whose friendship is treasured.

Council Regulates Its Firemen, We Guess

The business of passing regulations with which to establish rules for the Warren borough fire department was widely discussed at the adjourned meeting, Monday, and finally a set was passed which was much amended in hopes of avoiding future "trouble". The successful appeals of one Captain Hartwell Willey apparently weigh heavily.

Council also was visited by a delegation from the Fourth Ward, for whom Frank Siriani did the speaking. They are concerned about the condition of West Fifth ave., about which nothing has been done for twenty years, despite petitions and numerous requests.

Mr. Siriani said it was basically a water problem and that a dangerous situation exists. He asked for an investigation and for action.

He said that years ago the residents were immigrants unable to speak for themselves. Today another generation lives there which is well aware of its rights.

Asked by Councilman Emery if the residents want a paved street, Mr. Siriani said he suspected that would be the only answer. Burgess Rice reminded the visitors that a paving ordinance once was passed but later was set aside when the Fifth ave. residents asked that it be repealed because of the high cost.

The problem was referred to Councilman Merenick's committee. Louis Segel complained to council concerning the new rates set for the borough scale. He claimed (Nothing moves in more mysterious ways than Warren's handling of its fire department. But it will surprise no one if the establishment of a volunteer fire department in Warren is considered. Possibly with no financial saving, but with the opportunity of hiring only the key men needed for such an arrangement.

Christmas Pleasure

Whether you prefer to stay at home for your holiday, attend a church service, or go hoofing, or maybe a bit of each, the program this year offers most everything. All churches will have their programs, most organizations have had parties and attendant activities.

In addition, the various choirs and musical groups have provided Christmas programs, one of which was the annual Christmas choir festival, heard Monday night as given by the combined Warren high school choirs directed by Carroll Fowler. Dancing Christmas night again will be provided by the Marine corps, in the Marconi Outing Club. And the boys and girls will have their usual Christmas party Saturday morning in the Library theatre.

Most of the television and radio shows will offer a Christmas atmosphere, or at least will be influenced by the fact that this is Christmas week. For example we have the Paul Winchell show which will have a program especially for children, the Hit Parade will wrap itself up in Christmas numbers, and even Jack Webb's Dragnet will present his Christmas story of the child who was taken from the church.

Christmas services from Washington may be seen and heard from the National Cathedral at eleven o'clock, Christmas Day. The Buffalo stations will have Christmas Eve services, seen from St. Patrick's Cathedral at midnight over WGR, and from St. Paul's over WBEN at midnight.

The Christmas Eve services over Altoona will be at eleven from St. John the Divine.

The Christmas theme is to be found throughout the week on TV, such as the Shower of Stars over Channel 4 at 8:30 this evening, with an old favorite, A Christmas Carol, adapted to a musical.

The Vienna Boys Choir will be heard over 4 at 11:15, Friday evening, and the film, A Saviour is Born, will be seen over that channel at 11:30. Also over Channel 4, Christmas Day, there are many holiday programs, which may be topped for entertainment value by the Christmas Hour of Story and Song, at five o'clock, with Judith Anderson reading Hans Christian Andersen's "The Little Match Girl", Monty Woolley narrating "Signor Pizzicato's Christmas", the Corps de Ballet accompanied by the Longines Symphonette, and the Wittnauer Choraliers, conducted by Eugene Lowell.

For you football enthusiasts there will be the Blue and Gray game at 2:45 over Channel 2, and on Sunday the pro championship will be played over Channel 4 at two. These are but a few of the highlights as they come to mind and may not be the best. At least not the best as you see them. A glance at the programs will find what you want. For example, there are five hours of Christmas scheduled over Altoona starting at 12:15 Saturday. If you cannot find Christmas at home, there will be much of it around you in a large and wide variety.

Against Gas Controls Banks Join In Fight

By Thomas L. Stokes

WASHINGTON — You may, or may not, remember a theme of the Congressional investigations of banking and finance a couple of decades ago. This was that a few powerful New York banking firms exercised considerable control over our economy, and thus our politics and government, through interlocking directorates with our major industries.

Under the persistent political attack of that era following our great depression, big business and big finance began to manifest a chastened spirit. Their leaders got themselves booked far and wide to counteract the political charges of "control by a few" and delivered speeches about the new "social consciousness."

But every cycle comes to an end. Or at least big business began to act more natural again and to throw its weight around politically again with the advent here two years ago of an administration which it regarded as more sympathetic. It began to regain lost ground.

Big oil, you will recall, won the first big victory in the bill — previously vetoed by President Truman — that gave states control over marginal coastal lands rich in oil. President Eisenhower promptly signed that into the law of the land as he had promised he would do during his campaign. That law nullified a Supreme Court decision holding that the Federal government had paramount interest in those lands.

Well, the Supreme Court misbehaved again after that was all taken care of. Once again it offended oil and affiliated natural gas interests by upholding the authority of the Federal Power Commission to include producers of natural gas in its investigations to determine fair prices to consumers. That, incidentally, was the end of an interesting story which began with a bill passed by Congress, sponsored by Senator Robert H. Kerr (D., Okla.) to exempt producers from FPC authority.

President Truman killed that bill with his veto. But then the FPC, in a case affecting Phillips Petroleum Company, virtually put the Kerr bill into effect by administrative action. It held that it, the FPC, did not have authority to delve into production, as the expert staff of FPC had been doing for months in fact in an investigation of charges of excessive prices brought against Phillips Petroleum by several Midwestern states and cities. But, when the appeal of the latter reached the Supreme Court the FPC was told that it did have that authority.

So the Supreme Court must be taken in hand again by oil — through Congress. Sure enough, that's the program. Big oil, which owns the bulk of our natural oil reserves, is organizing a campaign to get a bill through Congress like the old Kerr bill so that this latest Supreme Court decision will be nullified, too.

But now we have an added wrinkle which takes us back to the community of interest between big finance and industry about which we heard so much a few years back. This will dissolve any illusions you may have had that banks were principally institutions which kept your money for you.

No, some of them know all about political issues, too. At least two big New York banks — National City and Empire Trust — are willing to get mixed up in a political fight on behalf of big oil and natural gas. In their last monthly letters, supposedly confined to business and economic conditions, considerable space is devoted to an argument against the Supreme Court decision and virtually an ultimatum to Congress to act to nullify that decision.

The Empire Trust was not content to rely on its own staff. It got a well-known writer and lecturer, David Cohn, to do a literary job on the highly technical subject. That he did, in the style with which we are familiar, with a light touch, a few jokes, and a sentimental appeal to the little woman — our slaves, our wives, whose toil is lightened by gas — under the original sub-head "Never Underestimate the Power Of a Woman." This goes on for the entire seven pages of the letter, which is devoted exclusively to this subject about which you probably never expected to hear from your banker.

It may be irreverent to suggest that the banks may be underestimating the power — as well as the common sense — of such of their depositors as are also consumers. And there are 40,000,000 natural gas consumers.

David Cohn and whoever wrote the National City Bank essay come out, strangely enough, with the same conclusion — that all Federal regulation of natural gas should be abandoned as it is socialistic, and that the free enterprise system should have full and free reign. If you'd like any more of the banker viewpoint on this subject, you can follow the advice in the foreword of David Cohn's essay which is signed by Henry C. Burnie, president, Empire Trust, which concludes:

"Relief from Federal regulation can only come from legislation enacted by Congress. John W. Bitner of our organization has worked closely with Mr. Cohn in the preparation of this letter and will be glad to discuss with our friends any feature of it."

OBSERVATIONS

By Bob Walsh

And so we come to Christmas! In our towns there are many churches and in those churches we make many plans for Christmas observance. That is good! In front of those churches we place decorations fitting to the season, large stars or nativity scenes. That also is good!

On the streets of our town we have decorations, mostly in the form of colored lights, illuminated bells, and an occasional star. If these decorations are put up by the community as a whole to provide a festive appearance for the observance of Christ's birthday, that is good. But if they are limited to the business section as an inducement to potential customers, it seems like commercialization. We are sure the line is not so fine but what we can recognize it.

We find too few decorations on the homes of the town. In the past we have known years when there were many beautifully done house fronts. But we note that those were the years when cash awards were offered for the winning homes. Again the commercial aspect and not the deep felt wish to express a Christmas message through a pleasure to the eyes of others.

But we are happy that the dark night is brightened by the few who have gone to so much trouble, beautifully done and in most cases with excellent taste.

However, behind this fine dress and tinkling gew gaws what do we find? Is our Christmas spirit more than tinsel deep?

Is there a revelation in the fact that over a half million dollars recently was distributed in Christmas savings? This in a community where a $59,000 drive to provide funds for nine non-profit agencies did not reach its goal.

And these Christmas savings customers were willing to let the banks have the use of the money for many months at no interest! The astuteness of bankers in general continues evident down through the centuries.

Great is the hustle for that half million dollars. So great that all stores do their heaviest business at this time of the year, and some do as much as sixty per cent of it!

There are many encouraging actions. The Junior Chamber of Commerce votes money for Christmas help, but avoids the self-satisfying pleasure of watching the smiles on recipients' faces by turning the money over to the capable hands of the Salvation Army. A good sign.

The Children's Aid has its happiness fund, well described by Lewis Crippen in last week's feature. Here is a medium through which you can give humbly and without open credit. And it is to the Children's Aid credit that it took much talking to convince its officials that such publicity should be.

Many kinds of giving are found here in our town in this year 1954. There are those who give for the pleasure they derive from making others happy. And there are many of us who give because we feel obligated to do so. Too many of us look forward to Christmas Eve or Christmas morning for what we will find under the tree with our name on it.

This is not limited to Christmas time. Credit giving goes on throughout the year. There is too much of the wish to be known if money is given for any purpose, and too much blind giving solely for the purpose of keeping solicitors away from the door.

But we find encouraging signs here also. We know of much financial help that has been given to many people and to many causes with no thought of credit, and with an insistence on secrecy. And this was not for the purpose of avoiding "touches", but because of a sincere wish to give only for the giving and not for the glory.

It is Christmas again, and a New Year is not far away. And who are we to criticize and look askance. We could paraphrase, He who is without sin, let him throw the first verb.

We must examine our past and look into the future. We ask ourselves, Do we have a sin now we did not have last year, and have we managed to lose any of the 1953 variety? Failing here, the job for 1955 seems fairly clear and well cut.

It has been nearly two thousand years. Man still refuses to practice the real answer. The way to peace on earth has been with us that long, and we continue to avoid the all-out effort.

But there is some hope. Much of it, in fact! There were only twelve followers at the beginning. Despite the millions who have mis-used the church and have done everything to give it a bad name, it continues to grow, and we are quite confident that among those who worship this Christmas you might find twelve good disciples in Warren county alone!

Clearfield Grapplers Avenge Defeat

Still smarting from a defeat by Warren which broke a long winning streak last year, the strong Clearfield Bisons turned back the determined Warren matmen, 30 to 6, last Tuesday. Mickey Kondak and Bob Smith won decisions to score Warren's 6 points.

The match was much more exciting and closer than the lopsided final team score indicates. Clearfield took only one match by a pin and needed decisions to win their other matches.

A lack of fans was evident at the match last Tuesday evening in Beaty Gym. Even last year when Coach Homer Barr's wrestlers were undefeated in dual competition and had one of the strongest teams in the area the seating capacity of the gym was not overburdened. Sport fans of the area who are craving more action are missing the boat by not going over to Beaty Gym when the Warren high school wrestlers are at home. High school wrestling is a scientific sport and differs from the melodrama seen on TV which is referred to as wrestling, just as black differs from white.

Warren high's matmen will not see action now until January 6 when they travel to Titusville.

Sheffield Turns Back Warren

Nobody told the Sheffield high school basketball team that the Warren Dragons were their bigger brothers and the Sheffield five captured a 58 to 48 decision from the Blue and White at Sheffield, Friday. It was the first time a Sheffield five has downed a Warren high school basketball team since 1942. But the Wolverines played better team ball than their opponents and took an early lead and maintained it the whole game except for a brief period in the second quarter when Warren went ahead by one point.

Vashaw had 19 counters and Taylor collected 14 points to lead the Sheffield team to victory. Jeff Homan again saw Warren's brightest light. He played the entire game, looked well on defense, and ran up a total of 21 points for his night's work. Don Nelson and Wink Rickerson, two tall underclassmen who started the game, both showed signs of developing into good court performers and along with Homan, who is a junior, should give the Warren five a big punch offensively and defensively when the Massaman return to action after Christmas.

Next Tuesday evening the Dragons will face an Alumni squad on Beaty gym. Members of last year's varsity squad who are ex-

"Y" LEAGUE LEADERS. The Style Shop team of the Warren Y.M.C.A. loop notched its fifth straight victory Monday evening by outscoring Guiffre's Rockets 66 to 51.

Style Shop Gains Y Lead

Scoring 23 points in the last quarter, the Style Shop quintet took undisputed possession of first place in the Y basketball loop last Thursday by downing the Dukes, 56 to 45. The Dukes had been leading the Style Shop throughout the game and were ahead by 7 points with six minutes left to play in the last period. But then one of the Dukes fouled out of the contest and they were forced to play out the remainder of the game with only 4 players, because only five Dukes showed up at the Y for the game. Hud Berdine and Dave Berdine poured in 19 and 14 points for the winners. Chuck Irvin paced the Dukes with 16 points.

Youngsville-Tidioute climbed out of the cellar by crushing Sugar Grove, 73 to 43. Knight led the Youngsville-Tidioute scorers with 24 markers. Jim Sturdevant had 13 points and Ken Strickland, 11 points for Sugar Grove.

Last Monday both the Style Shop and the Dukes won games. The Style Shop downed the Rockets, 67 to 51. Hud Berdine tallied 17 points for the winners and Dave Berdine and Hartweg had 15 points for the first place club. Bill Weidert scored 17 points for the Rockets. The Dukes outdistanced Youngsville-Tidioute, 68 to 58, with Basil Kulka coming through with 26 points. Knight had 14 points and Spear, 13 points, for the losers.

Tonight on the Y floor the Dukes will oppose Sugar Grove, and Youngsville-Tidioute will go against the Rockets.

Area Scores

Sheffield took Warren, 58 to 48, at Sheffield in Warren's only game this week. Later in the week a strong Smethport five held Sheffield scoreless the entire third period and whipped Sheffield 61 to 33. In other county action Youngsville downed Lawrence Park, 66 to 39. Northern Area won two games, taking Spartansburg, 62 to 30, and its Alumni, 44 to 29. Tidioute dropped decisions to Clarion, 53 to 49, and to Townville, 43 to 40.

Action was light in Section II of District 10. Oil City took Erie East, 53 to 49, and Meadville beat Hickory, 63 to 57. Titusville added two more wins to its record when it dropped Grove City 68 to 41, and Cranberry 80 to 71. Franklin was outscored 73 to 52 by Union City.

Erie schools saw very little action also. Strong Vincent took Bradford, 63 to 57, and Academy bested Harborcreek 56 to 43. Erie East lost a 53 to 49 decision to Oil City.

Both of Warren's New York state opponents won ball games. Jamestown measured Falconer, 60 to 51, and Southwestern was 68 to 53 better than Fredonia.

Kane continued strong by taking Brookville, 52 to 39. Bradford was beaten by Erie Strong Vincent, 63 to 57, and then bounded back to defeat Wellsville, N. Y., 59 to 40.

Sharon remained unbeaten as it edged Butler, 50 to 48, and then got by Warren, Ohio, 59 to 55. Farrell rolled over Stuebenville, Ohio, 68 to 50, while Sharpsville dropped two games. Conneaut Valley took them 57 to 53, and New Castle won a 68 to 53 verdict over Sharpsville. Coming closer to home, West Forest lost to Red Bank Valley, 44 to 35, and then was swamped 90 to 24 by Keystone. East Forest was edged by Keystone, 56 to 54, and then took North Clarion, 65 to 60.

Port Allegany bested Emporium twice. The scores were 51 to 38, and 61 to 41. Mercer took Linesville, 57 to 43, and downed New Wilmington 61 to 50.

Hickory was defeated twice. Ellsworth took it 82 to 73, and Meadville downed it 63 to 57. Ridgway edged Sandy Township, 49 to 47, and Johnsonburg sneaked by DuBois, 44 to 43, and Wilcox over St. Marys, 46 to 43, and Wilcox cleaned Kersey to the tune of 62 to 45. Pleasantville was beaten 51

Asides

The Amazing Total of $6,200 was obtained in Warren by the firemen's union for the muscular dystrophy fund, according to a letter from Mrs. Lou Gehrig, thanking the Warren boys. We say amazing because it would be a big total for a major campaign. In this case the firemen were given short notice and no canvass was made.

Correction! The price of the police car and station wagon bought by the borough totaled $2800, which is $200 higher than the amount appearing in our council meeting report last week. It was $200 higher than the lowest bid, but the low bidder forgot to enclose his check.

Earned Income Tax?

Looking for new sources of income, the Warren borough council is giving serious thought to a wage tax, also known as an earned income tax. This is not an occupational tax, as reported in other mediums. We already have one of those.

Council probably would make the assessment one-half of one per cent, which might bring in approximately $100,000. Probably a special collector would be appointed to handle the assessment, and most plants would make the deduction from the pay check. A simple form would be provided for each taxpayer, and according to experts collections have been nearly a hundred per cent in the many Pennsylvania communities and first class townships using this tax.

It is probable that such a move would eliminate the $5 per capita tax, which is the most unfair assessment of all because it taxes rich and poor alike. The earned income tax comes closer to establishing the amount due on the basis of the ability to pay.

It also might be possible to reduce the millage at least one, and still meet the additional costs. The many aspects of the tax obviously appeal to numerous councilmen, some of whom predict that it will be utilized.

The earned income tax is one of the many made possible by Tax Law 481. The limitation of this law might make it necessary to drop the per capita tax. You can obtain only the equal of ten mills through the various 481 taxes. Warren would be very close to that limit, $150,000, if the per capita were continued.

Question. If the council adopts the earned income tax will the school board be far behind? The two together can not exceed one per cent. The school board with the other one-half of one per cent could replace its unjust $5 per capita and $5 resident taxes.

to 47 by Randolph to round out this week's action.

Gas Producers Fight Controls

By Doris Fleeson

WASHINGTON. -- An orphan of the storm looking for a prestige-laden Senate sponsor is a 1955 version of "Bob Kerr's gas bill." This is legislation removing natural gas producers from the authority of the Federal Power Commission.

For many years, as natural gas became a popular heating fuel, the issue has been before Congress in some form or another. Recently the Supreme Court re-affirmed, 5 to 3, that the FPC had the power under the 1938 natural gas act to regulate sales of natural gas by producers where the gas is eventually to be transported across state lines.

Thus it is again clear that only Congress can give the relief for which the gas producers have been clamoring for a long time. It is admitted in the industry that it will besiege Congress as it has in the past, believing that this time they have a President in the White House who will sign the bill if it reaches his desk.

Former President Truman vetoed the end product of the vigorous efforts of Senator Kerr of Oklahoma who managed to get Congressional approval of a modified version of the original Moore-Rizley bill offered in the 80th Congress. A newcomer and a millionaire oilman, Kerr was warned then that the bill was politically perilous to his national ambitions as he learned the hard way when he sought the Democratic nomination for President in 1952.

Kerr has since been renominated to the Senate after a hard fight and re-elected. But he now knows that his is not an appealing name to attach to the new legislation and it is understood he will not again stand in the forefront of the battle.

One of his last lieutenants in the fight to enact the Kerr bill was Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas who was of course subject to intense pressure from his home state. But Senator Johnson will be majority leader in the next session and in no position to sponsor or struggle publicly for so controversial a measure. He also has Presidential ambitions.

The issue will split the Democrats to some degree. In a sense the bill fits the "giveaway" label which Democrats have been attaching with good success to the Eisenhower Administration. Many of them are against it anyway but they will use the new argument on any wavers that support for a gas bill will destroy their giveaway slogan.

Actually the fight in the large sense is between consuming and producing states. Naturally the consumers want cheap gas, while the producers insist it is unfair to regulate prices for gas and not for other fuels.

The controversy will be exacerbated by the fact that some -- not all -- oil men poured money into many states in an all-out effort to defeat such liberals as Senators Sparkman, Kefauver, Langer and Margaret Chase Smith.

The tip-off on the prospective new pressures on Congress reached Washington in releases from the Socony-Vacuum Oil Co. Enclosed was a copy of the letter sent their shareholders together with the annual dividend. It was devoted to explaining how Soconys "extensive natural gas holdings" were affected by the Supreme Courts decision, suggested that legislation was the only possibility of relief and concluded with this not very subtle hint:

"We hope this letter will enable you to understand a little better what all the shooting is about should you feel disposed later to express your views on the subject to your Congressman."

BOWLING THIS WEEK

Awful Hot

The toughest league in the nation must be in Newark where 45 out of 50 men in the Atlantic Seaboard circuit average 200 or better. This may not sound any better than many of the big city classic loops, but a large share of the spitters in this one have averages in the 220's. Al Faragelli leads them with an average of 231!

The ladies are getting the big ones this year. There are over ten 700's or better, led by Sylvia Wene, of Philadelphia with 732. Highest average in the nation is Marion Ladewig's 209. She is the match game champ. Sylvia Wene is second with 204.

Out in Los Angeles there is a women's team competing in the men's major league. With a team average of 931 it is considered the strongest ladies' quint in the country. Or until someone reads the news and reports a stronger.

Bowling conditions certainly vary. Take Junie McMahon, twice national match game champion, for an example. He has well over 200 in all his leagues except one. In that one his average is only 180. But that isn't bad. The New York Metropolitan Major loop has a top average of only 193!

Now In Warren

League action was limited in Warren this week, most circuits taking the evenings off for Christmas preparations. However, there has been a bit of action, topped by Pete Juliano with 247 and 657 in the Commercial league. Next come Harold Still and Art Check with 614 in that circuit.

Pete also led the City league with 593. Jack Johnson topped the Ex-Servicemen with 589, 243. George Anderson led the Junior Industrial with 574. Oscar Sequist was best in the Merchants with 569. Chuck Strandburg led the Shop with 549. Turk Scalise, the K of C American with 547, and Herb Anderson the Sylvania with 526.

Ladies and Mixed

Rita Miley with 508 and Betty Gray with 505 led the Ladies City league in the only women's action. Glenn Grosch had 603 to top the Friday mixed league, and Millie Baldensperger shot 399 to lead the ladies in that group.

$20,000,000 Hammond

Plant Involved In Sale

Directors of the Hammond Iron Works, Warren, have approved a plan to sell most of the firm's eight million dollars worth of properties and inventories, according to Henry Sears and Co., a New York private investment firm. A tentative agreement to form a new company to carry on the business also has been announced.

The 56-year old firm, with two plants in Pennsylvania, and others in Alabama, Utah, and Wyoming, has an annual sales volume of about twelve million. Using present personnel the new company will attempt to expand this business in the field of supplying steel tanks for utilities, water works, and petrochemical processing. The company also provides related equipment for these same industries.

It is anticipated that present officials of the company will continue to play a major part in the ownership, operation, and administration of the business.

Kathryn Grant, 21-year-old budding star with Columbia Pictures is telling her friends "Buy a Savings Bond to give as a Christmas gift. They provide security for the future, a promise of the good things to come, such as leisure, travel, a home, and education for the children. There is a beautiful Christmas gift folder for you at your bank."

THE OBSERVER

THE PAUSE THAT EXPRESSES. Even though laden with packages and rushed with last-minute shopping, this lady answered the incessant call of the Salvation Army's bell. Her mind filled with intricate details of the Christmas dinner, she can face the observance with relieved consciousness now — she has helped to provide the necessities for some other feast.

REMEMBER, YOUR NEXT TRIP TO TOWN. Nearly everyone is willing to help the high schoolers with the greeting card collection if they can just remember to deposit them in the conveniently located boxes. Mrs. John Moll was in the process of making a contribution as Pauline Pulli and Patti Leonard were preparing to take the contents of the box to the high school. For those who like to keep the cards for further reference during the holidays, the club will canvass the borough soon after the first of 1955. Keep your porch light burning if you want your used Christmas cards to shed the sharing spirit of the yule season throughout the coming year.

DEEP SATISFACTION. The gifts piled high under the Christmas tree and arranged so beautifully by the fireplace are in the Children's Home because some organizations cared. Some groups decided not to exchange gifts among themselves but to contribute toward a "white Christmas" with anonymous packages marked for particular children who reside temporarily at 444 Conewango ave.

What did the Master say? This picture aptly speaks a thousand words.

NO EXPENSE — JUST EFFORT. The Future Business Leaders of America of Warren high school have solved the problem of what to do with the tremendous quantities of Christmas greeting cards. They are gathering them for presentation to patients at the Warren State Hospital where the beautiful pictures will be used for physical therapy. The young people are willing to do the collecting if you are willing to part with the momentos. Except for the personal messages handwritten by seldom-seen friends, most cards are just repetitious statements of "Merry Christmas and Happy New Year".

Snowed under by greeting cards are: (front row) Marilyn Pastrick, Phyllis Gorton, Diane Morell, Roberta Elmhurst (second row) David Wert, and Don Hendrickson.

COMPELLING BEAUTY. The beauty of the sanctuary of the Holy Redeemer Roman Catholic church is an invitation for all to worship. The symbolism which is so meaningful to many compels an awe and respect from those who pass the portals.
